Rev. S. P. Long's Lecture.

Rev. S. P. Long, of Columbus, delivered his lecture, “Bob's Bible,” to a large audience at the Evangelical Lutheran Church on Thursday night of last week.

The Reverend gentleman is a ready, pleasant and forcible speaker, and kept his audience fully interested from beginning to end.

He hit the noted infidel some heavy blows during the course of his discourse, and exhibited much skill in laying bare the sophistries of what are called the “arguments” of infidelity.

Of course it would be unfair for us to attempt to give the substance of his lecture, for the reason that it is the private property of the speaker, but those who failed to hear him missed a grand treat.

NOTICE TO BOX RENTERS.

Box Rent is due on the 1st day of each quarter: viz, January 1st, April 1st, July 1st, and October 1st.

The Boxes are provided and maintained by the post master at his individual expense. The Box rent is payable to the government. The post master must pay to the Government the price at which every box in his office is rented.

Heretofore it has been the custom with renters to pay when they please, often not until the last week of the quarter; sometimes delaying until after the post master has made his settlement.

The post master has been compelled to annoy the Box Renters with vexatious duns, because his oath of office compels him to use all diligence in collecting, and failing to collect, to pay the account himself.

The positive, absolute order of the Department to the post master is to collect rent according to law. (See Postal laws on reverse side of “notice.”)

The post master has no discretion in the matter. The Rent must be paid or the boxes will be closed.

The intelligent patrons of the office will cheerfully comply with the Law. Those who may take offense, should direct censure to the law, and not to the official who is under oath to observe the Law.

LEWIS GREEN, P. M.

OBITUARY.

WRIGHT.—Another beautiful life has been transferred from the narrow sphere of earth, to the glory and grandeur of the heavenly world. A mother has departed from a loving home, and has entered into the house not made with hands, whose architect is the great creator.

“She thought her good night kiss was given, And like a tiny life did close; Angels uncertain that repose, And the next waking dawn'd in heaven.”

Lizzie Ann, daughter of Thomas and Mary Ann Magee, was born in Vinton county, Ohio, August 3, 1855. She was united in marriage to Dr. I. C. Wright, October 2nd, 1873. Their residence during the first 10 years of their married life, was in Haydensville. The family then came to Logan, where they have since resided. She was called to her eternal reward, April 15th, 1895, her age being 39 years, 8 months and 12 days. As the family stood around her dying bed.

There fell upon the house a sudden gloom. A shadow on those features fair and thin, And softly from that hushed and darkened room.

Two angels issued where but one went in. She was a true christian woman. She united with the Methodist Episcopal church in Haydensville in the year 1875, under the pastorate of Rev. J. S. Ricketts. She lived an humble, prayerful christian life, one of sincere devotion to God.

She was a loving wife. They were one in aims and purposes and plans. The memory of her precious love is fragrant as the flowers.

She was a devoted mother. She loved her children with all the wealth of her mother's love. As they climbed upon her knee, and put their arms about her neck, they felt the caress of tender sympathy and affection.

She was a quiescent woman. Her empire was her home. She reigned with gentle sway. Her ambition was to bring her children into subjection to the will of her heavenly Father. Her ideal was true christian manhood and womanhood. She rejoiced as her children accepted Christ as Savior and king. She was not attracted by the follies of society but strove to make home the most charming spot on earth for her family, and great was her success. She was mother, companion and friend—

“To mothers what a holy charge Is theirs—with what a queenly power Their love Might rule the fountains of the new born mind.”

She was the uncorrupted queen of her home and with the scepter of love held sway over hearts that loved her. Although a saint of eternal light, she will still reign. What is mothers wish, what does mother desire, will still be a question often asked by her children. Her influence will never die. The angels came for her and she went home to be forever with the Lord. She leaves to mourn her departure, a husband, two, three sons, two daughters, one a little babe, father, mother and brother.

She has gone from a land of shadows to a land of sunshine, from sorrows terrestrial to music celestial.

“Hark! they whisper: angels say, Sister spirit, come away. To thy room in heaven—It disparted: Heaven opens on her eyes; her ears With sounds seraphic ring: I mount! I fly! O, grave where is thy victory? O, death, where is thy sting?”

CARD OF THANKS.—We desire thus to extend our heart-felt thanks to neighbors and friends in appreciation for the kindness, sympathy and assistance rendered during the sickness and death of our dear wife and mother.

DE I. C. WRIGHT AND FAMILY.

OBITUARY.

Andrew G. Jackson was born in Berne Township, Fairfield County, Ohio April 11th, 1828, and departed this life in Goodhope Township, Hocking County, Ohio, at his late residence near Rockbridge, April 17, 1895, aged 67 years and six days. He was united in marriage to Elizabeth Hufford, June 8th, 1851. To this union was born six sons and four daughters, one daughter having died in infancy. He leaves to mourn his departure, a widow, six sons, three daughters, twenty seven grand children, one brother, two sisters, and many relatives and friends. He with his wife united with the German Baptist Church about the year 1858, and has since that time lived a devoted member in the faith. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Palmer of the German Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. Rice of Rockbridge, and Palmer of Bremen, Ohio. The Rockbridge choir attended in a body, and rendered very valuable services. The services were conducted in the German Reformed Church at Sugar Grove and the interment in the Beery grave yard, near Sugar Grove. He was treasurer of Goodhope Township for many years.

The deceased was one of the prominent men of our county, active in all matters looking to the betterment of his neighbors and of his county, well and widely acquainted, and esteemed wherever known. He was a land mark among the men of the past generation, and a light house to those coming up after him. The SENTINEL, with his many friends in Logan and the Hocking Valley, lamenting his death, extends hearty sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Card of Thanks.

We desire thus to extend our heart-felt thanks to neighbors and friends in appreciation for the kindness, sympathy and assistance rendered during the sickness and death of our dear husband and father.

Fifty Five Minutes Late.

The entertainment given by our amateurs in the Opera House last Thursday and Friday evenings, was one of the best our citizens have ever had the pleasure of attending. Not much was promised, and all more than promised was happily rendered.

The performance was clean from the customary joke, and the fun was of the most laughable character and fit for the parlor of any home. The boys did their parts with enthusiasm, and each filled the character he represented with much more likeness than the average professional. The show was deserving of the crowded attendance. The audience was the largest ever assembled in the Opera House. Hundreds were unable to get inside, and packed the stairs and hallway for hours, catching as best they could, fragments of the fun that convulsed the audience, and made even the disconsolate outside laugh. It would be invidious, where all did their parts so well, to specially name any one, but we can not forbear a little leaflet of especial compliment to Miss Bertha Nixon. This tiny little girl rendered “Wait Postman Wait” as feelingly as the veriest Prima Donna of the land could have sung it, and in graceful move and appropriate gesture gave emphasis to the feeling the subject suggests. “Come Out And Play” was as cheery and inviting for an out door romp, as the twitter of a bird in the fields and woods on a summer day. Miss Bertha has our congratulations in her successful debut, and we hope in all her future life, she may be pleasantly successful in her work, as she was in the part she played.

The entertainment was repeated by request of those who could not gain admission, on Friday evening to a good and appreciative audience.

The young folks think something of giving an entertainment in our neighboring towns. Should they do so, we heartily commend them, and bespeak an evening of fun to all who may attend.

Womens' Weapons.
In “King Lear,” Shakespeare speak of tears as “womens' weapons.” There is another weapon that should be in the hands of every woman throughout the land—a weapon with which to fight those diseases peculiar to the gentler sex: Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the weapon we mean. It will do more good, in routing that “dragging-down” feeling or those unaccountable but terrible pains than a river of tears.
Dr. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—Your advice to Mrs. Saylor was carefully followed, and five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I am happy to say, has cured her of uterine congestion. She is feeling finely, I assure you I appreciate your kindness. With many thanks, I am, Yours to command,
JOS. SAYLOR, Bryson, Cal.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Oft in the stilly night
Ere slumber's chain hath bound me,
Sharp pains dart through my head,
And chills come creeping round me.
I feel so sick, I sure shall die!
All hope of cure seems broken,
But there's a “Pellet” all my try,
A sure, unfailing token.

Yes, a token of recovery in every case, as effective, and almost as magical as the famous “talisman” of fairylore. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a positive cure for all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.
